

PROTECTION AGAINST ANNOUNCEMENTS ON STREET CARS

Hearing at Hartford Before Committee on Railroads.

Hartford, Feb. 17.—The act concerning protection against announcements on street cars came up for a hearing before the committee on railroads today. A number of changes were advocated by persons representing the street railway interests. The measure proposes to create an street car conductors peace officers with power to arrest drunken persons or persons who behave in a disorderly manner upon street cars. This was opposed on the ground that not all conductors are temperamental good timber for peace officers and certain changes were made modifying this phase of the measure. It was supported in most of its features by the railroad interests and in its entirety by a number of people who told of different acts of rowdiness which they had noticed upon cars. A substitute bill was offered by representatives of the street railways and will probably receive favorable recommendation.

Porcelain Dentistry

The Interesting Advances Shown by Modern Dentistry Over the More Cumbersome Methods of the Past.

The Introduction of Porcelain Dentistry Does Away with Pain—Wonderfully Natural Effects Possible.

Prominent dentists all over the country, dentists who serve the very best class of patients, are fast coming to a realization of the fact that as gold at one time superseded other methods of filling the teeth, so porcelain is now, in many cases, superseding gold. However, the use of porcelain is difficult to change to porcelain because of the fact that it takes time and study to learn to properly manipulate porcelain.

Gold in the teeth is really unsightly. There is a contrast between the gold, which often becomes black, and the pearly white of the teeth, that is annoying indeed to particular people, and especially is this so where a great deal of gold is used. Many people find the constant drilling and hammering consequent upon gold filling painful and nerve racking.

In order to give the people of Norwich the benefit of the Porcelain Method, which represents all that is modern in dentistry, Dr. Jackson, the manager of the King Dental Parlors, with offices on Franklin Square, has equipped a department with a complete outfit for doing this new work. This department is in charge of an expert dentist from New York city, who has for several years made a specialty of Porcelain Dentistry, the Alveolar method of restoring lost teeth.

With porcelain, a tooth can be filled to defy detection. Because of the fact that the porcelain will perfectly harmonize with the color of the structure of the teeth. There can be no injury to the nerves and no pain, for reason, and because of the lack of unpleasant features attending its use, porcelain dentistry is rapidly being adapted to children. Metals in teeth often generate an electric current and their proximity to the nerves in juvenile teeth often causes unfortunate results. This is not so in the case of porcelain. Any intelligent person who gives this matter any thought will at once appreciate the advantages of the new dentistry, and the number of people who stay away from the dentist because of unpleasant experiences of the past, because they prefer imperfect teeth to a mouth full of unsightly metal, recognize the fact that here is dentistry which they can take advantage of without hesitation. Dr. Jackson is well known in the city, and the fact that he is now introducing modern porcelain dentistry will undoubtedly bring to his office many people who have long appreciated the unsatisfactory results of the older methods.

Anyone who has remained in a dentist's chair for hours during a tedious session of painful drilling or continuous use of the mallet knows what such experiences mean and will be quick to appreciate the difference in methods, and it is because of this fact that the best patients are demanding porcelain work that dentists are beginning to awaken to the advantages, both to their patients and to themselves. Dr. Jackson will welcome a visit to his office and will be glad to explain personally the many points of advantage in porcelain dentistry that have only been hinted at in this article. It may be well to state here that for bridge work, porcelain fills a want that has been long felt, for re-enslaving it has attained a state of artistic perfection, and porcelain plates have been used extensively in the highest class work for many years.

Dr. Jackson assures you of the highest amount of satisfaction in dental work. It would be well also to take your children to him as you will find porcelain dentistry unusually desirable for their needs—it robs going to the dentist of all its terrors for the little folks.

The King Dental Parlors are located on Franklin Square, over Somers Bros., the most convenient location in the city. The offices are clean and pleasant. Special attention is given to the sterilization of instruments and every effort is made to give comfort to their patients. Hours from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

WESTERL'S PUBLIC LIBRARY

Ends Six Months of Constantly Increasing Circulation—Decision Reserved in Case of Coy vs. Sweeney Granite Works—Case of Herbert Edwards vs. New Haven Road Settled out of Court—Horse Thieves Fail to Appear Wednesday Evening.

The first six months of the library year at the Westerly public library closed Wednesday and showed a marked increase in the number of books loaned. The statistics show not only an increase in patronage but also a large addition of books. During the six months 24,482 books have been loaned, an average of 408 a week. This is a gain of 5,400 for the corresponding six months of last year.

During the period 1,277 books have been added to the library, and 1,392 have been returned; 67 volumes and 229 pamphlets have been presented to the library. As another evidence of increased interest in the library, 2,212 new cards have been made from the catalogue during the six months.

In addition to this, large numbers visit the reading room daily, which is supplied with the leading daily newspapers, nearly all the magazines, trade journals and other publications. It is conceded that the Westerly public library is one of the largest and most complete that exists outside of the largest cities in New England.

The case of Frank W. Coy of Westerly, as administrator of the estate of Charles H. Fayerweather, against the Sweeney Granite works, was heard on Tuesday before Judge George T. Brown in the superior court at Kingston. The case is an appeal from a decision of Judge Edward M. Burke of the probate court of Westerly, adjudging Mr. Coy guilty of unlawful administration, in that he failed to pay a claim of the Sweeney Granite works, of $15, which had been filed with the town clerk and within the time specified by law, inasmuch as no claims were disallowed and the estate therefore being legally solvent.

Mr. Coy seeks for a decision of the superior court to determine as to whether the law is mandatory that all claims against estates shall be filed with the clerk of the probate court. In this case, it appears, there were two claims against the estate of Mr. Coy, one for $15 and another for $100,000. The probate court clerk, while claiming to the amount of $100,000 were filed with the administrator and never filed with the probate court clerk. Mr. Coy seeks to know whether or not the claims filed with him are to be barred from the estate, and the judge decided they were filed within the time specified by law.

The judge of the probate court decided that the law was mandatory in requiring all claims to be filed with the probate court, but that it had been customary to file claims with the administrator, and as no question had been raised on this point before, there was no call for court decision on the subject. He considered the law plain in the case and gave judgment accordingly.

If all the claims are allowed, it is asserted the estate will be insolvent. Judge Brown of the superior court took the papers and reserved decision.

William D. Cameron representing the Fifth company basketball team, met with Manager Sidney Martin of Danielson and Manager Arthur M. McGinley of New London in the state armory Wednesday evening, to arrange for the basketball championship game of eastern Connecticut between the New London and Danielson teams at the state armory this evening. It is probable that the game will be played here next month under the auspices of the Fifth company, the championship game to be played at the conclusion of a game between two teams of the Fifth company. The New London and Danielson teams have each won two games to their credit, and the Fifth company wants the rubber played in the state armory as an added attraction to the company games.

Mrs. Olive A. Lewis Barber, widow of Thomas D. Barber, died February 17, at her home, 100 Franklin street, in Exeter, R. I. September 1, 1901. Cycle Stearns Fire Engine Company No. 2, held a social affair in annual meeting, John Lynch, foreman; George Winterbottom, first assistant; James Benzie, second assistant; Samuel Sharp, secretary; Joseph Taylor, treasurer; Harry Thompson, steward. Mr. Sharp has been secretary for the company since its organization. This (Thursday) evening the company will hold the annual social in Hibernian hall for members and their families or lady friends.

The meeting to complete the organization of the Westerly District Nursing society, owing to the weather was not held Wednesday evening, but was postponed to Friday afternoon. The special committee which met Wednesday afternoon formulated a plan of organization which will be presented at the public meeting Friday afternoon. It is understood that every church in Westerly will be represented on the governing board.

The cantata, King Arthur, was produced by the Westerly high school chorus before a large audience in the school hall, Thursday evening, with Miss Emilie Zangrandi accompanist. The leading parts were taken by Miss Bertha Hobson of Brooklyn, soprano; Henry Arthur Turner of Springfield, bass; and H. Lambert Murphy of Boston, tenor. The soloists were well trained in their parts and gave to the cantata the dramatic effect that contributed largely to its successful rendition. The high school chorus also rendered careful and persistent training and their singing gave much pleasure to the assemblage.

In the superior court at West Kingston, Wednesday, it was announced that the case of Herbert Edwards against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., a suit to recover damages of $25,000 for the loss of both legs, had been settled to the satisfaction of the parties interested. It was arranged to hold a session of the court in Westerly Thursday for the trial of this case and other Westerly cases were also assigned for hearing at the special session. With the settlement of the Edwards case it was decided not to hold the proposed session in Westerly.

The jurors were sworn in and court adjourned to next Tuesday, when the criminal docket will receive consideration.

Chief of Police Bransfield and Joseph T. Murphy spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Stamford in connection with the theft of Mr. Murphy's horse and carriage. The rig was recovered and the man in charge arrested by the Stamford police Tuesday morning. Later in the day, a second man, who was identified by Mr. Murphy as a one who took the team, was also arrested.

Wednesday morning Chief Bransfield telephoned to Police Sgt. Brown to have warrants for each man ready, so that they could be served immediately upon arrival in Westerly. Sergeant Brown was at the railway station upon arrival of all trains from the west, but the chief and his prisoners had not arrived up to evening, and this gave rise to the belief that the delay was caused by the accused refusing to come to Rhode Island without requisition papers.

Capt. Sylvester Gavitt, for many years a well known master of steamers in the Pawcatuck river, and a long time resident of Westerly, died Wednesday morning at his home in Greenwich avenue. After retiring from steamboating he entered the employ of the Smith Granite company and did considerable traveling for that firm. He is survived by Mrs. Gavitt, a son, Henry W., and a daughter, Mrs. Lyndon Taylor; also a brother, Capt. Isaac Gavitt.

Governor Boutwell appointed Senators Arnold of Westerly, Bowen of Providence, and McKenna of Cumberland to represent the senate at the funeral of Congressman Granger.

Mrs. Julia A. Burdick, formerly of Westerly, died Tuesday at her home in Charlestown, in her 75th year. She was widow of Capt. James H. Burdick and is survived by a son, J. A. Burdick of Charlestown.
